Notes on Narbonne

Final Exams Over, New Semester Next

By ADRIENNE SIDWELL
With those tough final examinations over (the hardest ones probably being Mr. Dean's B-11 American History classes), and the completing of report cards tomorrow, next week will see the beginning of a new semester.

Rene Belle, USC professor of French, will speak at the commencement exercises, to be held at Narbonne next Friday at 8 p.m. Fifty-one seniors will receive their diplomas that night. Our seniors will be greatly missed next semester.

The graduating seniors had their traditional breakfast last Friday. The senior prophecies and wills were part of the program that morning.

A very impressive and beautiful baccalaureate service was attended by the senior ayes, friends, and families. Rev. Eldon Durham, of the Lomita Presbytery Church, gave the invocation. Rev. Roy Wittum, of the Lomita Missionary Church, addressed the seniors and Rev. Robert Wells pronounced the benediction.

Boy! the Winter '53 class really did select some cute gals for their flower girls. They are: Dorothy Algrame, Anett Grafe, Millie Monroe, and Carol Shep-herd. The diploma girls are Myrna Bacon and Barbara Smith.

Under the theme of "Inauguration," the A-9s will graduate next Wednesday at 2 p.m. There will be several talented speakers portraying past presidents. After graduation, the new B-10s will have a party in the girls' gym.

Miss Parks, girls' vice-principal, who fractured her hip two weeks ago, is reported doing fine. Miss Richardson, who has been pinch-hitting for Miss Parks, has been proving that she can do as good a job as a girls' vice-principal as a girls' gym teacher. Miss Parks will not be back until next September. In the meantime, we shall have a new girls' vice-principal.

Last Thursday, the very active Home Economics Club installed its new officers. They are: President, Rosalind Sillano; vice-president, Mary Embres; secretary, Margie Getz; corresponding secretary, Sharon Anderson; treasurer, Gail Travers; and historian, Carmen Ochoa.

We are proud of Narbonne's Boberick "Ricky" Bernardin, who won a place in the tryouts for the All Southern California Junior High Orchestra with his second trombone.

Mary Helen Briley and Joyce Bernhardt went to Banning's GAA Banquet last Wednesday night. They reported that they had a very enjoyable time.

According to several Narbonne students, the Deacons of San Pedro really put on a fine dance at the San Pedro YWCA. And the Narbonne Keynotes were really jumpin'.

Attention boys who have bleached their hair: Just as soon as you find out that you can be kicked out of school for trying to disguise yourselves in this manner, (no lie) and are trying to dye your hair back to natural, why not try the Vel-Art Beauty Shop in Torrance? Ask Elmer Elsworth, he knows.

The happiest group of girls around Narbonne (including myself) are the new members of the GAA (B-10s) who received their GAA sweaters Monday. You can't miss them, they're a bright kelly green. These girls have been looking forward to receiving them all semester, especially Lila Cordray, who has been driving Mr. Day crazy. Boy, are they sharp!

Broken hands seem to be a new fashion around Gauchoville. Kids sporting them are George Willis, Diane Miller, and Eddie Mehler, of the S'52 class. Rather painful fad if you ask me!

Mollie Arnes and Bill Young went hunting again, this time around Corona. Better ask them what kind of luck they had!

Narbonne's faculty and students express sympathy to Penny Stalcup, B-9, and family over the sudden death of Penny's seven-year-old sister, Joan.

Hey Gauchos, let's make our next paper and rag drive the biggest ever. The one who brings the most newspapers or rags will receive a season's pass to all Narbonne athletic events! Neat, huh? The least you can do to see the award assembly, a two-hour movie, "Broken Arrow" is to bring three feet of newspapers or five pounds of rags. So don't forget the date, that includes you new B-7s, Feb. 11.

Say, kids, I need more news. How about calling me? My phone number is Lomita 32107.
